

Deliver predictable and reliable white-glove and self-service conferencing with VQ Conference Manager

Monitor and manage up to 50 calls on a single screen

With VQ Conference Manager, operators can monitor and control up to 50 in-flight calls, direct from their call-management screen.

They can see key call information at-a-glance, including participants, video layout and real-time performance data.

From the same screen, they can control call- and participant-level settings, as well as add and remove people from calls.

Call scheduling for operators and end users

VQ Conference Manager enables users to schedule their own calls, using familiar tools.

Equally, it gives your operators the ability to schedule conferences for specific users, as part of a white-glove, managed service.

Multi-tenancy

Separate clients or business units by hosting multiple tenants on a single Cisco Meeting Server or cluster.

Assign operators to one or more tenants. This enables you to securely ring-fence particular calls, or allow a single operator to monitor multiple tenants' conferences on a single screen.
